Palm Print Examination

40 Hours ($499/person)

Scope:

This class is to serve as an introductory course into the science of Palm Print Examination. This course will include reading assignments and recorded lectures, as well as practical exercises through the Delta Forensics Online Learning Platform.

Course Objectives:

Through the duration of the course, participants will learn some of the foundational knowledge of palm print examination. This course is designed to reinforce foundational concepts, as well as anatomical features found within the palm, their use in orientation, the use of creases, and the comparison of digital images in casework.

Participants will also progress through several comparison exercises to assist with the development of their examination skills and abilities. Additional reading materials are provided within the course.

Class benefits:

- Approved by the IAI Latent Print Certification Board for 40 hours of continuing education towards initial certification and 20 hours towards recertification.
- Through the Virtual Academy, participants may progress through the course in a fully online, and self-paced format to allow their other duties to also be completed while enrolled in the course.
