BLOODSTAIN PATTERN ANALYSIS DOCUMENTING – REPORT WRITING – PRESENTING

Hosted by: Worcester Police Department

Location: 221 Main Street

Bolyston, Massachusetts 01505

Instructor: Craig C. Moore (Ontario, Canada)

October 21-25, 2019 (0800 – 1700 hrs, Monday through Friday)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This 40-hour course was initially designed after a request from the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department. Its primary goal is to have the crime scene investigator become comfortable and proficient with discussing BPA theory as it relates to the scene investigation. The attendee will learn what elements compose the best photographs possible and apply it to scene analysis, and then incorporate them into a BPA report, knowing full well the findings could be discussed in court. They will create and construct demonstrative aids to assist in the testimonial before the court.

In order to meet this goal the following objectives will be made:

- A renewed BPA awareness of theories and terminology
- Correct photographic techniques
- Layout and design theory for a solid, court acceptable BPA report
- Practical elementary bloodstain pattern experimentation/creation (demonstrative aids)
- Creation of a demonstrative model of a spatter pattern to illustrate and explain 2D & 3D aspects
- Opportunities to speak publicly on theory before a group who know the theory

Each attendee will bring with them a PowerPoint presentation consisting of approximately 12 slides (or more) of a bloodletting scene they are knowledgeable on and present it to the class. Each attendee will have previously attended a 40 hour basic BPA course and have a minimum of 1 yr crime scene/BPA experience since that class.
